AGCO Parts Filters

Protect the life and performance of your Massey Ferguson machine

The rigours of modern day farming expose both machinery and operator to many harmful, dangerous and corrosive external contaminants and impurities.

Modern machines have ever more complex hydraulic systems. It is becoming increasingly important that the correct lubricants are used and that those lubricants are kept in the best possible condition between service intervals. One thing however hasn't changed. The conditions in which tractors and combines work are still as dirty as they always have been. The contaminants that enter a system are no different but the damage they cause is much greater and potentially far more costly.

Fitting anything other than the genuine part may give a short term saving but longer term could be extremely costly both in repair costs and down-time.

There are many parts which are copied by our parts competitors and sold through aftermarket outlets. Some of these are very different from the original and this is obvious in their appearance. Materials used, method of construction, finishes, etc. Some however are much less obvious and yet the differences may be far more critical.

The premium quality genuine AGCO Parts filters for Massey Ferguson machines are designed specifically to combat all of the above issues and eradicate the consequential problems, thereby ensuring full protection always.
